TB Skin Tests Slated By Co. Health Dept.

As recommended by the Utah State Health Department Code, the Wasatch County Health Department has again accepted the responsibility of doing tuberculin skin testing of all food handlers, beauticians, and barbers within the county.

390 school personnel, Indian, out-of-state and eighth grade students have already been tested. Records show we now have 159 positive reactors within the county. Let's do our part and help Utah eradicate tuberculosis by getting our test on one of the following days:

Test:

Mon. Oct. 2 2 'til 4:30 p. m.

Resigns

By LYNN HIGGINSON

HEBER CITY — Wasatch County Superintendent of Schools Berty Gividen has submitted his resignation to the county board of education, citing a difference in philosophies between him and board members as the reason.

The resignation became public as a result of a special board meeting held last night and called for the express purpose of considering the resignation. The resignation was read and accepted at the meeting.

Dated Wednesday, Mr. Gividen's resignation stated it was to become effective the next day — Thursday.

Following the board's acceptance, Assistant Superintendent Douglas Merkley was appointed acting superintendent until a permanent appointment is made.

There was some indication that Mr. Merkley would be considered again should he apply.

A divergence of philosophies apparently developed between Mr. Gividen and the five new board members since the beginning of this year when the new board members took office.

The differences apparently came to a head at the second board meeting in February when over 120 county residents attended the meeting. Superintendent Gividen's contract was being considered at that meeting.

Hearing reports about the differences, the majority of the citizens attending apparently came to express their desire that Mr. Gividen be retained.

At the end of that meeting, the board, responding to the attending citizens, decided to work with Mr. Gividen for another year. That is where the issue stood until he submitted his resignation.

A complete changeover in the membership of the board was due to a state mandated reapportionment of school district precincts last year, requiring that all former board members run for re-election. Each of the former members was defeated.
